

Shunsuke Toyoda

Shunsuke Toyoda is a visiting researcher at Center for Twin Research, Graduate School of Medicine, Osaka University. He received his Ph.D. from Osaka University for neuronal epigenetics in mice. After then, he started twin studies as both a researcher and a twin volunteer. He did postdoctoral training at Osaka University, University of Yamanashi, National Institute of Information and Communications Technology, and University of Helsinki. His interest is to understand the genetic and environmental mechanisms that influence individual differences in the brain.

